RUSH WILKINS SEARCH; ASSISTANTS ALARMED

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Plans to search for Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins, noted explorer, missing in the Antarctic for more than a week, were being rushed today according to a copyright dispatch in the New York American which was sent by wireless from Deception Islands.

Victor Olsen, radio operator on the whaler Melville, now at the Wilkins base of operations, who sent the dispatch, said as soon as possible a spare whaling vessel could be sent to search the ice seas to the south of Melville, where the Wilkins expedition party is somewhere on the S. S. Scoresby.

BRITAIN POINTS TO DISCREPANCIES IN STIMSON PROPOSAL

Statement Serves As Basis For Further Negotiations

LONDON, Feb. 7.—While setting forth clearly the limits to which America is willing to go in the cause of disarmament and providing a perfect basis for further negotiations, the "fifteen-cruiser" statement of Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson does not represent a definite agreement between Great Britain and the United States.

This was made clear today when the British Admiralty lost no time in coming forward to point out supposed discrepancies in Col. Stimson's tonnage figures as well as other items in the statement which are not entirely to British liking.

The principal discrepancy which the Admiralty pointed out concerned the British eight-inch gun cruisers York and Exeter. These vessels, the Admiralty declared, displace only 8,400 tons each instead of the maximum 10,000 tons Secretary Stimson's statement inferred. Thus America would have an advantage of several thousand tons in this class of warship.

The Admiralty admitted, however, that this difference could be quickly adjusted by adding 3,200 tons to Britain's fleet of light cruisers.

However, the Admiralty managed to find an apparently serious obstacle to bringing about the very backbone of the Stimson program, which is that in addition to absolute parity in battleships, the United States cruisers have eighteen eight-inch gun cruisers to Britain's fifteen.

This obstacle is provided in the Admiralty's opinion that such an arrangement makes no provision for the tonnage ratio demands of Japan.

CAN'T DECIDE WHAT WIFE TO KEEP

ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 7.—Ray Barry, 34, today will have to decide whether he is to keep wife number seven, the bride of a day, or make another change in favor of wife number six.

Barry's bride of yesterday, Grace Barry, was formerly his fourth wife. Shortly after the ceremony, Barry called police to his home and demanded the arrest of his sixth wife, Billie Adair, a parachute jumper. She was annoying him, he charged.

Several hours later the bewildered bridegroom appeared at the police station.

"I've decided to divorce Grace and marry Billie. So turn her loose," he told the astounded cops.

MARKET STEADY AT OPENING FRIDAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The market was steady at the opening today, with narrow price changes in the industrial and specialties. American Gold led the rally in the industrial and sold up 2 points at 134. Gillette recovered 1 3/4 of yesterday's losses and opened at 94 1/2. American and Foreign Bond sold up 7/8 at 96 1/8. Dupont gained a point at 129 1/2.

U. S. Steel sold fractionally at 183. International Tel and Tel lost about a point at 164 1/4. Radio was down 1/4 at 37 5/8. General Electric down 1/4 at 77; Woolworth down 3/8 at 66 5/8; National Cash Register down 1/4 at 80.

LA GUARDIA TO MEET BROOKHART FRIDAY IN LIQUOR DEBATE

Expect 3,000 Will Attend Cleveland Argument

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 7.—Congressman Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York, and Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, two of the nation's most colorful political figures in the raging congressional liquor war, will cross swords over prohibition enforcement in a debate at Public Hall here tonight.

The two champions of bitterly opposed sides will argue for the benefit of an expected audience of more than 3,000 on the question, "Can prohibition be enforced?"

LaGuardia, the militant and outspoken critic of prohibition, will take the negative. He has promised an exposure of liquor enforcement which both dry and wet camps are awaiting with keen interest.

Pre-debate intimations have been that LaGuardia plans to lift the lid on alleged corruption in high Washington offices attributable to prohibition. The New Yorker has stated that he plans to make his debate here the springboard for the attack on the liquor laws which are to come up for hearing in Washington next week.

Brookhart, Iowa individualist and unofficial spokesman of the Hoover administration, will take the affirmative of the question tonight. Each of the prohibition warriors will take the floor for thirty minutes. Following the deliverance of the bodies of their arguments the debaters will spend the remaining hour in rebuttal.

MENTION XENIAN FOR POST

SAY NARCOTIC RING CAUSE OF AKRON MURDER

Think Woman Victim Undercover Agent For Investigators

AKRON, O., Feb. 7.—Rounding up members of an alleged narcotic ring operating in northeastern Ohio, police today sought a man named "Jess" as the murderer of Mrs. Cuth Murray, 34, reputed undercover agent for federal narcotic investigators. The woman came here recently from Detroit.

Mrs. Murray, who had been missing from her home since Sunday afternoon, was found dazedly stumbling along the Akron, Canton and Youngstown Railroad tracks Wednesday. She died yesterday at City Hospital. A post mortem revealed her death was due to a fractured skull, resulting, apparently, from two severe blows over her right ear.

"Jess, Jess did it," she groaned in her semi-conscious condition just before her death, according to police. This was her only clue to the identity of her assailant. Discovery of the fact that Mrs. Murray was reputed to have acted as an undercover agent for narcotic investigators, led police to the belief that "Jess" may be a narcotic ring chieftain, who was anxious to put the woman out of the way.

Four men, one of whom is known to police as the city's "dope king," were questioned for several hours yesterday, but were later released.

Detectives investigating the case attempted to reconstruct the events leading up to the woman's murder. They discovered that Mrs. Murray had left the house where she had been staying with a five-year-old son here, Sunday afternoon. She started out, it was learned, to go to a telephone office to receive some money. The woman never applied for the money.

A woman, with whom Mrs. Murray and her son were staying, told authorities that Mrs. Murray once confided to her that she had been sent here to work as a narcotic investigator.

Mrs. Murray's husband is a chef. He was formerly employed in an Akron restaurant, but is now living in Detroit.

CONVICT TEACHER FOR WHIPPING GIRL

GEORGETOWN, O., Feb. 7.—Lloyd Brown, 23, school teacher, was without a teacher's license today after he had been convicted of assault and battery upon Cleo Gast, 14, by a jury yesterday.

William Melvin, county school superintendent, immediately revoked Brown's license upon learning the jury's decision.

Sentence has been deferred by the judge sitting on the case.

The whole affair came as the result of the Gast girl closing a school book too hard in class.

REPORT ONLY ONE SMALLPOX DEATH

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—Only one death has been recorded in Ohio from smallpox since the latter part of November when the disease began its rapid spread throughout the state, according to the state department of health.

Though more than 2,100 cases have been reported since November 23, all have been of a mild nature.

Faulty diagnosis has led to the rapid increase of the disease in the state, health officials averred.

FAMED HALL-MILLS WITNESS IS DEAD

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 7.—Mrs. Jane Gibson, one of the striking characters in connection with the famous Hall-Mills murder mystery, today died at the Jersey City Hospital.

She had been suffering from a serious disease for many years. She died shortly before noon.

CAN'T DO THAT!

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—You can't steal liquor and get away with it.

That in effect was the ruling on record today in general sessions court after Judge Rosalsky sentenced Thomas Kennedy to serve five years in prison for attempting to steal a gallon of wine.

Wine is contraband under the Volstead law but when a man tries to steal wine from another he is just as guilty as though he attempted to steal diamonds, it was held.

GLORIA, HENRI TO END ROMANCE?

Many transatlantic telephone calls between Constance Bennett, motion picture actress, in New York, and the Marquis Henri de la Falaise de la Coudraye, husband of Gloria Swanson, motion picture star, in Paris, have given rise to report in Parisian haunts of American society that Henri and the glorious Gloria are to separate. Henri denies his costly conversations with Miss Bennett, divorced wife of Philip M. Plant, wealthy New York millionaire, are over other matters than his attempt to purchase songs for her forthcoming single. Miss Bennett is shown left, with Miss Swanson, right, who is in Hollywood.

OIL KING GUARDS HEALTH

Rockefeller Eats Enough But Is Careful Of His Diet Investigator Finds

(Editor's Note: Herewith is the second of a series of articles on John D. Rockefeller, Sr., founder of the Standard Oil Company and world renowned philanthropist, who, at the ripe old age of ninety, is a marvelous example of physical fitness and an exponent of the art of correct living.)

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Feb. 7.—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., is not on a diet. He eats three meals a day—not necessarily large meals but big enough to keep him at the peak of physical efficiency.

He is adhering to a strict daily health regime at his winter home here, where, at the age of ninety, he is displaying as much vitality as he did when he first came to Ormond Beach for health and recreation eighteen years ago.

Mr. Rockefeller's week-day schedule, as revealed today to International News Service by a close personal friend who frequently has been his guest at his home, the Casements, here and at his summer estate at Pocantico Hills, near Tarrytown, N. Y., is as follows:

He rises at 7.

He breakfasts at 8. This does not mean 7:59 or 8:01.

He tees off for eight holes of golf at exactly 10:15 a. m.

He has luncheon at precisely 1:30 p. m.

He takes a daily motor ride at 3 p. m.

He has dinner at 7:30 p. m.

He retires no later than 10 p. m. invariably at that exact hour.

John D.'s friend, who is the authority for this information, laughed at the reports that Mr. Rockefeller has a "false stomach," saying such reports are untrue. He said that on one occasion about five years ago he was at the table when Rockefeller ate, during luncheon, two soft-shell crabs and elderberry pie, a mighty tough combination to digest.

But, as a matter of fact, Mr. Rockefeller is very careful about what he eats. He eats lightly as a rule and very slowly. He never drinks intoxicants and even abstains from coffee. He does not

WOMAN FORGER SENT TO PRISON

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Feb. 7.—When she admitted forging three checks for $465 to obtain aid for her sick child, Mrs. Winifred Dunham, of Coshocton had today been sentenced to serve one year in the Marysville reformatory.

Relatives of the mother of two children did not make the "worthless paper" good.

of Irene Schroeder, blonde trigger woman, who is being held for the murder of a Pennsylvania state policeman. She is indigent and has not disclosed a single clue on which police may base a theory.

The police two women are Mrs. Grace Fox, alias Gardner, 41, and Mrs. Josephine Fowleson, 36, both of Columbus.

All three women have denied any knowledge of the robberies. Mrs. Lopez became ill late yesterday, and her killing was suspended temporarily.

AUDITOR CRESWELL GIVEN SUPPORT FOR U. S. MARSHAL HERE

Candidacy Said To Have Endorsement Of Leaders

Paul H. Creswell, auditor of Greene County, is being prominently mentioned as a successor to the late Stanley G. Borthwick, United States marshal of the Southern Ohio District. It is understood, however, that no appointment will be made for several days as Senators Simeon D. Fess, Yellow Springs, and Roscoe C. McCulloch announced they would make no move toward recommending a successor until they have had time to look over the field of candidates.

While Auditor Creswell has not announced that he is a candidate for the vacancy, his friends are understood to have suggested his name for consideration for the post. Since then prominent politicians are said to have given him their endorsement.

The auditor is understood to also have the backing of practically all of the nine counties which compose the Seventh Congressional District.

There are two basic qualifications which a prospective candidate must have in order to be eligible for the appointment. He must be an ex-service man and personally and politically a dry. Creswell fulfills both requirements. He is a member and officer of the Presbyterian Church here.

Since the vacancy is in the southern district of Ohio, Senator Fess will have the controlling voice in the selection under the patronage system worked out by the two senators but it is indicated that the appointee will be one that will be mutually agreeable to both.

Creswell was appointed Greene County auditor June 8, 1929, succeeding Ralph O. Wead, who resigned to become deputy state auditor. His appointment is for the expiration of Wead's term, which ends in March, 1931.

Prior to becoming county auditor, Creswell served as deputy auditor for nine and a half years. He was Republican State Central Committee member from the Seventh Congressional District from 1924 to 1926 and is a member of Foody service in American Legion having served during the war in the air service in Italy. He is a Scottish Rite Mason, and a Shriner.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—George A. Reeves, of Cincinnati, chief deputy marshal under the late United States Marshal Stanley G. Borthwick, today assumed the duties of marshal for the southern district of Ohio, having received a temporary appointment until President Hoover makes an official selection.

Marshal Borthwick died in Dayton last Monday.

The temporary appointment was made following a conference between Federal Judges Benson W. Hough and Robert Nevins.

Besides the parents and their brother, Hubert, they are survived by another brother, Wendell, also years old, who was staying with an aunt, Mrs. Charles Anders, near Bowersville, at the time of the blaze, and so escaped possible injury.

MONROVIA, Cal., Feb. 7.—Following a blood transfusion, Mabel Normand, former film actress, was reported improving today. She is under treatment here for tuberculosis.

HE WANTED COFFEE
ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Feb. 7.—Michael Morrissey, favorite butler of John D. Rockefeller, knows that his employer abstains from coffee and governs himself accordingly.

One morning, however, when "Michael" was passing coffee to other guests, "John D." remarked:

"Michael, I'll take coffee."

The butler went on serving, unmindful of the request. So Mr. Rockefeller repeated: "Michael, I'll take coffee."

The efficient "Michael" paid no attention. But when Mr. Rockefeller was passed up by "Michael" for the third time he said, firmly:

"Michael, I want coffee!"

And he got it.

POLICE BAFFLED IN EFFORT TO IDENTIFY WOMAN STORE BANDIT

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—Police here today were baffled in their attempt to identify the "bobbed-haired bandit" who is wanted in connection with a number of Kroger grocery holdups and robberies, while three women were still held in city prison.

Mrs. Halie Lopez, 42, is the principal suspect, but police admit that they have failed to positively identify her as the bandit. While she is being questioned, the woman has assumed the attitude

FEAR SEVEN OTHERS PERISHED FROM GAS; AFTER - DAMP FATAL

HELD FOR ROBBERY

Carl B. Spillman, 19, above, is being held in the county jail at Brownsville, Ky., awaiting an examining trial as the result of a daring hold-up of a bank at Rocky Hill, Ky., where his father, Porter Spillman, is cashier. Police declare the youth has made a confession. The elder Spillman, grief-stricken over the robbery, said that he didn't recognize his son, the bandit wearing a mask.

CARAWAY INFANT IS CLAIMED BY BURNS; OTHERS TO RECOVER

Babe Second To Die Result Of Fire After Explosion

The second fatality growing out of a coal oil explosion and fire which destroyed a four-room tenement house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Moxie Caraway and their three small children on the farm of Dr. C. E. Ream near Bowersville early Wednesday, occurred at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon with the death of Samuel, a six-months-old infant son, from burns suffered.

Burns sustained in the blaze proved fatal to Paul, a 9-year-old son, Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Caraway also were burned severely, but are expected to recover. A third son, Hubert, 7, escaped serious injury.

Double funeral services for the two children were conducted Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the residence of Gilbert Ream, son of Dr. Ream, who lives on the farm where the fire occurred.

Besides the parents and their brother, Hubert, they are survived by another brother, Wendell, also years old, who was staying with an aunt, Mrs. Charles Anders, near Bowersville, at the time of the blaze, and so escaped possible injury.

MURDERS WIFE AND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

SENTENCE WOMAN TO LIFE PRISON TERM

LORAIN, O., Feb. 7.—A domestic quarrel, said to have originated over a card game last Christmas holidays, today had reached its climax with the murder of Mrs. Minto Nichols, 35, and the attempted suicide of James Nichols, 56, a machinist, her husband.

Nichols is in a serious condition at St. Joseph's Hospital today with a bullet wound in his head.

Since their separation recently, Mrs. Nichols had been working as a nurse in the home of Harold Graver here. Nichols went to the Graver home last night to see his wife. When he saw her in the house he fired through a window. The bullet struck Mrs. Nichols in the neck, killing her instantly.

She fainted when life sentence was passed.

This resulted in an investigation by the bar association and recommendation by Chief Magistrate McAdoo. At the same time Mrs. St. Clair was given life sentence, however, the district attorney issued a statement absolving Magistrate Rudich.

She fainted when life sentence was passed.

MADRID, Feb. 7.—All newspaper censorship in Spain will be lifted eventually but only by gradual measures, Premier D'Amaso Berenguer indicated today.

Three Miners Escape; Gas Hampers Work Of Rescue Crews

STANDARDVILLE, Utah, Feb. 7.—Twenty miners were known to be dead today, the fate of seven others was unknown, and three were uninjured, following an explosion late last night in the lower workings of a coal mine operated here by the Standard Coal Company of Salt Lake City. Sixteen bodies, blackened from after-damp, have been removed.

The explosion itself caused little damage, but gas spread through the mine shortly after, and officials of the mine held out little hope for the lives of the seven miners who have not been located.

There were thirty men in the mine at the time of the explosion. Three uninjured men walked out unassisted.

According to coal company officials, the explosion resulted from sparks from a mine cutting machine which ignited the deadly gas in the underground workings.

The explosion itself caused little damage and injured no one, but the terrible after-damp spread rapidly from mine No. 2, where the blast let go, to mine No. 1, more than a mile distant, where the thirty men were at work.

A rescue crew of six men was working desperately this morning in an effort to reach the ten miners who have not been reached since the explosion. After-damp still prevailed, however, and the work of penetrating some two miles underground where the missing miners are believed to be was badly hampered.

Virtually all of the dead miners were the heads of families and the 350 inhabitants of Standardville were grief stricken today.

Scores of women and children gathered near the scene of the fatal explosion, imploring mine officials and rescue workers to bring out "dead or alive" the missing miners.

Nearly all the victims were American born.

CORPORATIONS ARE LIABLE FOR TRUCKS

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—A ruling that corporations may be held criminally liable, and be subjected to prosecution, for the overloading of trucks, in violation of Ohio laws, was given today by Attorney General Gilbert Bettman to Prosecuting Attorney R. H. Bostwick, of Geauga County.

"A corporation is capable of operating automobiles upon the highways and may be criminally liable for the acts of its agents (drivers) when vehicles are operated by such agents in violation of law and when such operation is carried on by the agent within the scope of his authority," Bettman said.

FOR THE LOVE O'PAT

READ THIS FIRST:

Herbert Maxwell, guardian of Patricia and Jimmy Blair, twins and joint heirs to a huge fortune, plots to secure it for himself by the substitution of a man, resembling Jimmy, at the settlement of the estate at New York City. Jimmy, suffering from aphasia, has been held in seclusion by Maxwell, Patricia, aided by Lieutenant Rex Dallard and Dr. Frank Gordon, both in love with her, and Nurse Margery Lynne, attempts to frustrate the plot, but fails when her family physician identifies the fake as Jimmy after a physical examination. The friends then believe Maxwell has outwitted them by substituting the real Jimmy for the false in the examination room. But it is too late.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIX

It was plain by the expression on his face and the way he shook his big, leonine head that Dr. Gardner was anything but satisfied. Pat, however, ventured nothing further on the subject. A moment afterward the car drew up and stopped in front of the Trust building.

Maxwell, his countenance wreathed in smiles, was seated at the long table in the directors' room when Pat and her friends entered. The young man whose legal right to the name of James K. Blair had been so definitely established, sat next to him. The nurse had retired discreetly to a seat in the back of the room.

Not so much as a suggestion of hesitation marked the movements of the heiress to ten million dollars as she made her way across the room to where Maxwell sat waiting. She had confided in none of her friends, not even in Margery, relative to her intentions. She knew what she wanted, she had told herself, and as the situation now revealed itself to her there seemed only the one way by which she could attain her desire. Maxwell looked at her inquiringly as she came up to him.

"I want to talk with you privately for a moment," she said in a low tone. "It won't take long—just a question I want to ask you. We can step down to the end of the room!"

He seemed slightly surprised at her request, but rose at once and accompanied her as she had asked. It was an unexpected move on Pat's part, and the others of her party looked their surprise. In a distant corner she halted.

"I'll make it brief, Mr. Maxwell," she began, outwardly calm, but with a heart that was throbbing anxiously. "Brief and snappy! And you might as well drop your pretense. You've won and I'm prepared now to pay. Just give me back my brother—that's all I ask now! Promise you'll turn Jimmy over to me and I'll make no further efforts to thwart you in the game you are working! You had Jimmy there in the X-ray room today! It was clever—the way you made the switch out in the hall. I know how it was done now, but I didn't then, or the outcome would have been far different. But that's all past and finished. Promise you'll deliver Jimmy to me at six o'clock this evening and—you may go through with the transfer of his share of the property to this substitute of yours! Will you do it, Herbert Maxwell?"

The man looked at her, and his lips smiled. But the pale blue eyes were like globules of ice. After a moment he spoke.

"I'm not denying anything you've said, Patricia. And I know what you're thinking. But my advice to you is this: Accept the situation as it stands. Accept the man your own Dr. Gardner has positively identified as Jimmy Blair, the man you, yourself, identified in France. Accept him here—and now. Then, after another week or so, when everything is settled, you may trade the second double cross for the first! Understand?"

She studied the face before her. A quick flash-back of memory recalled various occasions when this man had pledged his word to her, and as she reviewed those occasions now there came to her mind no instance in which it had been protested. He was one of those analogies in the rank and file of mankind who flaunts his one claim to honor from every house-top, while the by-paths he has trodden are foul with his misdeeds.

But she had no alternative—circumstances—and superior cunning—had triumphed, had given him the winning hand. She must accept the tentative offer, his vaguely worded promise. If he failed—

"I'll accept," she said, finally, and then rejoined the others around the table.

"I've decided that I made a mistake," she said, simply, as she paused at the side of the young man she had just agreed to recognize as her twin brother. She placed a hand on his shoulder. "I'm convinced now this is Jimmy," she added, and in token of her acceptance of the situation she seated herself at his side. It might have been noted by the closely observant that she had not included the surname: "Blair." It was a bitter pill she was having to swallow, but the end, she felt, justified the means to it; the purpose at stake was worth the while. She would explain it all later to her friends, she told herself.

The business connected with the transfer of administration from the former executor to the heirs of all the James K. Blair securities, bonds, stocks, etc., was then transacted. In accordance with Maxwell's suggestion, papers were drawn up and signed by Pat, as nearest relative, authorizing Herbert Maxwell to continue, for the time being, in the office of advisor to, and administrator of, James K. Blair's share of the estate.

The cash value of the entire list of holdings according to Maxwell's figures, now totaled up to about twenty-eight million dollars. These figures were taken from the original list, a copy of which Maxwell had made in 1911, the date upon which the securities were placed in the deposit box of the trust company by James K. Blair, Sr., accompanied by Maxwell. Their valuation then was twenty million dollars. From that date until now all the executive work connected with the Blair holdings had been done in the presence of three bank officials. At no time had the administrator sole access to or control of these securities. The figures now submitted showed the increase in valuations, some of the stocks having more than quadrupled in eight years. This gave to each of the twins a fortune of fourteen million dollars.

At this stage in the proceedings Pat and the young man answering to the name of James K. Blair, accompanied by Maxwell and Grierson, were escorted to the safety deposit vault of the trust company, and there an equal division of the securities was made and each share placed in a separate box. Pat was given a key and instructed regarding the procedure necessary for her to gain admittance to her property. They returned then to the directors' room, where the balance of the business was completed. And Herbert Maxwell's face certainly wore a smug expression, as Pat observed to herself, at the termination of negotiations.

To give the surface situation something of the color of legal probity, which the inside facts so manifestly lacked, and to account for Pat's failure to insist upon taking her "brother" under her own personal wing and supervision, the wily Mr. Maxwell proceeded to offer explanation.

His unfortunate ward, Jimmy, he said, was in such a deplorable mental state that it would be folly for his sister to try and take care of him. Until he was well enough to undergo a surgical operation it was advisable, in his opinion, for Jimmy to remain under the personal and exclusive care of his nurse, Mrs. Duane, who had cared for him ever since their return from France. Patricia would, of course, be at liberty to visit her brother at any time and have him with her whenever she wished, or when it was expedient.

During this harangue Grierson never once interrupted to ask any question. But his rather broad countenance wore an odd expression as he listened to Herbert Maxwell's platitudes.

And to all this fine line poor Patricia had to bow her head and acquiesce in silent misery and apprehension. Had she done something, she kept asking herself over and over again, something she would regret, something for which she would be blamed some day by Jimmy himself?

No, she would then assure her-

AUTOISTS HURT AS AUTO LEAVES ROAD

Four stitches were necessary to close a deep cut on the scalp sustained by M. I. Sachs, Dayton, when the auto in which he and Mrs. Sachs were riding crashed over an embankment on Johnson's Hill near Jamestown about 10 o'clock Friday morning.

It is believed that the automobile skidded on the slippery highway causing the car to upset. Mrs. Sachs received small cuts and bruises about the body. Mr. and Mrs. Sachs returned to Dayton after being treated at the office of Dr. R. L. Haines, Jamestown. They were enroute to Washington C. H. The car was badly damaged.

YOUTH WHO WOUNDED RUBIO IS COMMUNIST

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 7.—Daniel Flores, youthful Mexican who shot and severely wounded President Pascual Ortiz Rubio a few hours after his inauguration, has acknowledged his allegiance to the Communist cause, it was reported here today.

While previously Flores stoutly maintained he had attempted to assassinate the president for purely personal reasons, it is now reported the act was a result of Senator Ortiz Rubio's initiative in the rupture of diplomatic relations between this country and Soviet Russia.

Mexican newspapers stress the fact that Charcos, state of San Luis Potosi, which is Flores' home town, is a hot-bed of Communism.

BAND DIRECTOR

BOBBY ALTHOFF

Bobby Althoff is all dressed up here for his role as musical director, baton and all. He wore this costume when he directed the band at the St. Agnes School Christmas entertainment in Dayton. Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Althoff, (Regina Hustmyer) Superior Ave., Dayton, and is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hustmyer, W. Main St. He was seven years of age in January and is in the second grade in school.

JURY DEADLOCKED IN SLAYING TRIAL

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 7.—A Travis County jury had deliberated for more than seventy-two hours upon the fate of John W. Brady, prominent Texas jurist charged with murdering Lehlila Highsmith, 26 year old stenographer, his pretty alleged intimate, today, and apparently was as far from agreement as Tuesday night when it received the case.

The jury was still reported to be hopelessly deadlocked, ten for conviction on a murder charge and the assessment of a heavy penalty, and two for acquittal.

Moved once from their original quarters to a room which did not give a view of Main Street, the jurors were back in the first room again today. The belief that they were finding too much diversion in looking out the windows caused the move.

District Judge J. D. Moore remained firm in his intention to hold the jury indefinitely, in an attempt to force them to a decision.

FIVE ARE KILLED

ORENSE, Spain, Feb. 7.—Five workmen were killed here today when an excavated tunnel in which they were working caved in.

Zimmerman News

Mrs. George Ferguson and Miss Lida Ferguson entertained the Community Club and other women of the community at the regular January meeting of the club, at which the second demonstration, "Attractive Desserts" was given by Mrs. Crawford Coy and Mrs. McKinley Durnbaugh, was much appreciated and enjoyed by all present.

Mrs. Coy, president of the club, presided at a short business session.

Present were: Mrs. Coy, Mrs. Durnbaugh, Mrs. Treharne, Mrs. Henry Stewart, Mrs. Lester Leaman, Mrs. Alvah Stine, Mrs. Alfred Smart, Mrs. Robert Bear, Mrs. George Williamson, Mrs. F. J. Barron, Miss Julia Lantz, Mrs. R. E. Ferguson.

Visitors present were: Mrs. Andy O'Hara, Mrs. Roy Coy and Mrs. Allen Andrews from District No. 1. Also Charlotte Coy.

The January meeting of the Faithful Workers Sunday School classes was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bear, Mrs. A. D. Wenrick, president, presided at the business meeting.

An election of officers was held and the following officers were elected: Lawrence Snyder, president; Mrs. Joe Coy, vice-president; Mrs. Barron, secretary; Miss Lizzie Haverstick, treasurer.

Present were: Mrs. Wenrick, Mrs. and Mrs. I. M. Coy, Mrs. Fred Smart, Bertha Smart, Martha Coy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Devoe, Vera and Robert Jr., Russell Zimmerman, Mrs. Nettie Moler, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Coy, Lawrence and Alice, Miss Julia Lantz, Mrs. Barron, Miss Addie Lantz, Mason Aleshaire, Mrs. Lewis Bailey, Mrs. Clisty Sipe, Miss Ella Sipe, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Snyder, Thelma and Nadine Stewart.

Refreshments of fruit salad, cake and coffee were served.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Durnbaugh entertained at Sunday dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Coy and son Kenneth and at supper on Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. George D. Durnbaugh.

The funeral services for Mr. Jacob Stutsman, 81, were held at the church in Zimmerman Thursday afternoon, interment in Yellow Springs Cemetery with his pastor Rev. J. H. Eldemiller in charge. Mrs. Joe Coy was organist.

The floral offerings were beautiful. Mr. Stutsman had spent the last years of his life at the home of his son-in-law, Harry C. Haverstick at Zimmerman. Until the death of his wife he lived at Yellow Springs.

The only surviving relatives are a granddaughter, Miss Mary Haverstick, a niece and four nephews and his son-in-law.

The deceased had many friends as he was a very pleasant, kind, generous and helpful man.

Mr. and Mrs. McAlpine, of Canada, spent several days at the home of the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Treharne, and all four of the above motored to Florida with Miss Louise Treharne as driver. They expect to spend six weeks or more in the sunny southland. Miss Treharne will return to Ohio via train to resume her school duties at fourth grade teacher in the Belmont school.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Durnbaugh attended Sunday School at this place Sunday morning and were dinner guests at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Miller at Byron.

I. M. Coy and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Klethley in Dayton, Sunday, where Mrs. Coy's and Mrs. Klethley's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Goodwriter, of Detroit, were visitors. Mr. and Mrs. Goodwriter will visit Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bear and other relatives in Ohio and then go to California for a visit.

Misses Lizzie Haverstick, Mary Haverstick, Mildred Haverstick, Dot Koogler, George Haverstick, Cash Moore and Homer Koogler attended the pageant "The Church Triumphant," Saturday evening at Columbus during the pentecostal celebration under the auspices of the Council of Churches.

Geraldine Lafong spent the week end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smart.

Homer Koogler gave a very interesting talk at the Sunday evening service on the pageant, "The Church Triumphant," as mentioned above.

Mr. and Mrs. Flatter and son, Junior, have moved into the upstairs of Robert Bear's house.

Mrs. Hoague Raugh had a private sale of household goods formerly belonging to her aunt, the late Mrs. Scott Sellars. She has rented the residence to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rosell, who moved into same Monday. Robert Lafong and family will occupy part of the house. Mrs. Raugh and her daughter were sole heirs under the will of Mrs. Sellars to all the latter's property. Mrs. Sellars died at her home at Zimmerman.

Funeral services were held at the church in Zimmerman. Rev. Eldemiller preached and Misses Ruth Stewart and Oase Rosell sang three selections. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

Interment was in the cemetery at Byron. One brother, Dan Boyd, and a number of nephews and nieces survive. Mrs. Sellars had suffered for years with cancer of the hand, and from the painful treatments she submitted to, after the trouble had become malignant.

Seventeen ladies enjoyed the delightful demonstration "Substantial Desserts," given by Mrs. Coy and Mrs. Durnbaugh at the latter's home, Wednesday, February 5 at the regular meeting of the Community Club. Mrs. Coy, president, presided at a short business session, when plans were discussed for holding the annual Washington's Birthday social. Refreshments consisting of the demonstrated dishes, mince meat roll, cherry pudding, and steamed suet and carrot pudding with sauces, were served and were very much enjoyed. Present were the following visitors: Mrs. Roy Coy of district 1; Mrs. Crawford Smith and Mrs. A. A. Neff, demonstrators of Alpha; Mrs. Andy O'Hara.

Club members present: Mrs. Barron, Miss Julia Lantz, Mrs. Lehman, Mrs. Stine, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. G. Ferguson, Miss Lida Ferguson, Mrs. Wm. Swindler, Mrs. Coy, Mrs. Durnbaugh, Mrs. Nettie Moler, Mrs. Merle Ferguson, Charlotte Coy.

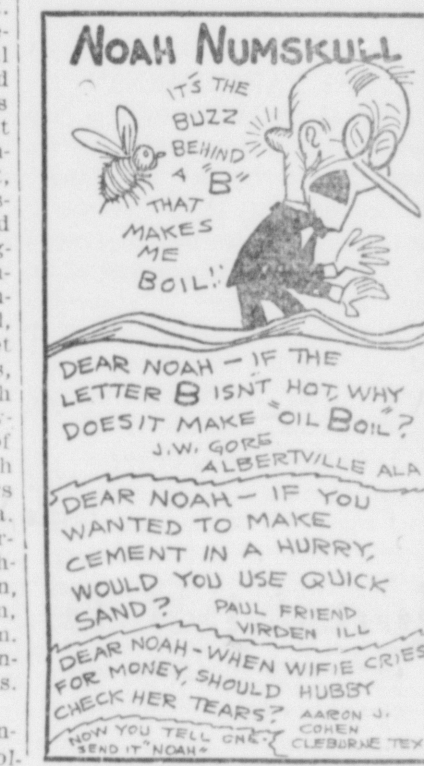

Officers were elected at the January Aid Society meeting as follows:

Dance Goddess Drops Soviet

Irma Duncan, adopted daughter of the late Isadora Duncan, world-famous dancer, declares she is "through" with Soviet Russia as a result of her Russian dancing troupe of ten girls having deserted her to return to Russia. Henceforth, she declares, she will stick to 100 per cent American ideas and plans to start a dancing school where American girls will be taught the Duncan gospel of freedom.

lows: Mrs. Nettie Moler, president, re-elected; Mrs. Ed. Bailey, vice-president; Mrs. Chester Johnson, secretary, re-elected; Mrs. D. Trubee, treasurer, re-elected. Thirteen women were present.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS FRAMED by Phil

President Sidney Weil is convinced that the Cincinnati Reds will derive considerable benefit from a deal completed Wednesday whereby Leo Durocher, an infielder, and Doug McWeeney, a big right-handed pitcher, were added to the roster in exchange for the Cuban twirler, Adolfo Luque, and cash consideration.

Durocher, who played various infield positions for the New York Yankees, was purchased outright for $100,000 from the Boston Braves. He is never been tried there. At other posts he covers plenty of ground and playing ninety-three games last season, he ranked fourth among the top ten of the junior circuit. The late Miller Huggins paid him a tribute of being the fastest player he ever saw.

The only drawback is that he is evidently a light hitter. Last season he batted only .246 but as he is at 24 years old he has plenty of time to improve. What the Reds need most, however, is hard slugging instead of many fielding sensations.

As for the McWeeney-Luque exchange, both Brooklyn and Cincinnati should benefit. Neither has been a winning pitcher but each has yielded an average of less than three runs a game to opponents last season and a change of pitchers should do them both good. The fact McWeeney is only 31 years old while Luque is 39 might indicate the Reds had somewhat better of the transaction.

When another basketball season is around Xenia independent teams will not lack for a place to play their games because a new $50,000 state armory will be available by that time. The contract for the construction work to be let next Monday and the structure will probably be ready for occupancy by November 11 or sooner.

The spacious drill room on what designated as the second floor would provide ample room for a basketball floor. The court will probably not be any larger, however, as large as Xenia Central's. The dimensions between walls provide a width of fifty feet and a length of ninety-five feet. Deduct fifteen feet from each end for space for seats and five feet on each side and you would have a court about the size of the high school court.

As far as the height is concerned, curved, bowstring trusses will be high enough that shots at 20 feet will not be interfered with. There will be a sixteen-foot range for shooting in the middle of the floor.

Just how much Roy Smith, center, and Donald Allen, forward, missed from the Cedarville College basketball lineup during the remainder of the present season, was demonstrated Wednesday night when the Horstman, without services of these two star performers, suffered an overwhelming 27 to 17 defeat in a return game with the University of Dayton Flyers at Cedarville. A few weeks ago with Smith and Allen playing, Cedarville nosed out the flyers 25 to 24 at Dayton. The Dayton team was a little green at that time, however, as the contest was its season's opener. Smith and Allen, both juniors, hailing from Belle Center, recently quit school.

WITHROW DEFEATS WOODWARD QUINTET

Withrow High School's undefeated basketball team, which includes Xenia Friday night, virtual clinched the championship of Cincinnati Scholastic League by squelching the hitherto unbeaten Melvindale Woodward quintet, 21 to 11 Thursday night at the St. Xavier College Field House.

The rampaging Tigers won on the long end of a 6 to 2 score at the close of the first period. Withrow's margin at the half was five points and the lead was increased to 20 to 8 in the third period.

The Tigers put up a sensational guarding game. The same five players composed the Withrow lineup throughout the contest and each member of the team took part in the scoring.

SOPHOMORES BEAT JUNIORS THURSDAY IN SCHOOL LEAGUE

Accuracy Shooting Fouls Enables 22-19 Victory

Accuracy at the free throw line enabled the sophomores to nose out the juniors by a margin of 22 to 19 in an Intra-Mural League basketball game at Xenia Central High School Thursday afternoon.

The junior quintet led 4 to 2 when the first quarter ended but the sophomores went on a scoring spree in the second period and held the upper hand at the half, 14 to 6. In the third stanza the juniors rallied and reduced the margin to 16 to 14 but again the sophomores rose to the occasion and succeeded in protecting their advantage throughout the last quarter.

The sophomores actually won the game on fouls, shooting six out of thirteen as the juniors outscored the winners from the field, nine baskets to eight.

Sheets, Halstead and Lighthiser, each with six points, shared individual scoring honors for the sophomore team. Spahr tallied seven points for the juniors followed by Shaffer with six. The lineups:

Bowling

The Lang Chevrolet Co. bowling team won two out of three games from the Buicks in a Recreation League match Thursday night, totaling 2,714 for the trio of games. Buicks turned in a series of 615, including a high single game of 246, for the winners. Meulenhart topped the Buicks with 578.

In a City League match the same evening Fuller and Sons won the old game in three from the American Legion. Fullers won one game by seven pins and another by a single pin. H. Jordan rolled 501 for the winners and Sharp tallied 526 for the Legion. Box scores:

Plenty of wind is necessary for yacht racing and promoting heavy-weight boats.

The leading soccer team in England is the Wednesday. So that's their payoff day over there!

To the teams they have licked the Wednesday must look like plenty of Friday.

One thing sport reformers have overlooked is the possibility of over-emphasizing the over-emphasis of football.

Canadians, if not Englishmen, can't make a mistake. North of the big dry lake. Football is regarded as a heavyweight champion.

SPORTS REVIEW FOR 1929-- JULY--BY NORMAN E. BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Central Press Sports Writer

Tennis hogged the limelight on the sport stage in July and while the month saw the vain effort of America's Davis Cup team to wrest the coveted trophy from the French, the starting play of the "younger generation" on the cup team drove some sunlight through the gloom.

JULY 2—Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, baby members of the cup team, met Henri Cochet and Jules Burgoin, French cup team members, in a doubles match in the quarter finals of the Wimbledon tournament in England and startled the tennis world by defeating the latter 7-5, 8-6, 3-6, 8-6.

JULY 4—And then the two youngsters tossed a second bombshell into the party by turning back Big Bill Tilden and Francis T. Hunter, veteran members of the American team, in straight sets, 6-3, 12-10, 6-3.

JULY 5—Helen Wills won her third consecutive British tourney by defeating her sister Californian, Helen Jacobs, in an All-American final at Wimbledon.

JULY 6—Van Ryn and Allison continued their surprising play by defeating J. C. Gregory and Ian G. Collins, Britishers, in thrilling five-set match.

JULY 8—Henry Cochet defeated Jean Borotra to win the singles title at Wimbledon.

JULY 19—Van Ryn and Allison furnished the thrill of the final round in the Davis cup preliminary by defeating Hans Moldenbauer and Daniel Prenn of the German team at Berlin. Tilden and Hunter won their single matches and the three victories sent America into the challenge round against the French, holders of the Davis cup.

JULY 25—Jackie Fields wrested the world's welterweight championship from Joe Dundee on a foul in the second round of their title fight in Chicago. Fields had dropped Dundee twice for the count of seven in the second round before the end came.

Coakley was beaten in the third game and was beaten 9-0, but allowed only seven hits. Mathewson gave a masterful performance throughout.

The fourth game was the prize. Each team garnered five hits off the sizzling slants of McGinnity and Plank, the Giants barely shoving one run over for the victory.

Mathewson ended Athletic hopes in the final, but not until after Bender had given him the battle of his life for a thrilling 2-0 decision.

GEORGIA DECLARES FATHER OF FORTY IS CHAMPION "DADDY"

MACON, Ga., Feb. 6.—The palmetto country of southwest Georgia today had revealed to the world its champion "Daddy."

He is Joshua Beasley, 70-year-old tiller of the soil and father of forty children.

Beasley was "found" here recently when he "came to town" with his last born, an 18-month-old baby boy. The child needed medical attention, a peanut having lodged in its throat.

Father and son were accompanied by the second Mrs. Beasley, who has borne sixteen of the patriarch's brood.

Small in stature, with a ruddy complexion and hardened features that bespeak of a lifetime spent at his avocation of farming, Beasley readily answered the questions of interviewers, quite unaware of his remarkable record and the attention he was attracting.

He admitted he had reached the well-rounded age of 70 years, but wanted those who might be concerned to know that he "felt like forty."

Talks of Family

He was eager to talk of his forty "young 'uns."

"I can't call all their names off hand," he said, "but all forty of them are on record in the courthouse, even though some of them died before we could think up names for them."

"But then there was Mollie and Florence, Lulu, Luther, Mandy, John Will, a set of twins, Claude and Claude, and Edward Thomas."

Several times in going through the long list, Beasley was prompted by his wife, whom he affectionately referred to as "Old Lady."

In fact it was the "Old Lady" who enumerated the sixteen she had borne.

"First there was Pearl," she said. "Pearl is 22. Then there came the twins, then Gladys, Cleo, Edna, Ellis, Pauline, then another set of twins, then Louis, Elbert, Beatrice, Curtis and the baby."

Both sets of twins and an unnamed baby girl died. The others are now living.

The children of the champion "daddy" range in ages from fifty-two years to the 18-month-old boy.

Scattered Far and Wide.

They are scattered from Florida to Canada and as far west as San Francisco, according to the father who admitted he did not know the whereabouts of some of those living.

His grandchildren and great grandchildren he had no count of, but spoke of them as being "plentiful."

Beasley first married at the age of 18 and became a father at 19. His first wife died after bearing twenty-four children.

At the age of 46, the patriarch married again. This second wife was 17 at the time of the marriage and in the twenty-five years since has become the mother of sixteen.

Beasley operates a two-horse farm in the southwest section of Georgia. He has seventy-five acres under cultivation and does practically all the work himself.

"It wasn't so hard," he said. "The older ones began to help with the smaller ones as they came up. We didn't ever have more than ten around the house at a time. When the younger ones were coming up, the older ones had married and moved off."

"Though we had plenty of them, I never saw the time when I wanted to get rid of any of them."

FILM MAGNATE SAVED FROM RIVER

Jesse L. Lasky's first exploration trip nearly ended in tragedy for the movie magnate. While exploring a 300-mile nameless and uncharted river in southern Mexico, declared to be as swift as the treacherous Colorado, with a party of 19, a native boat capsized, hurling the occupants into the water. After a battle with the current they emerged to discover their food lost and were forced to walk for four days through virtual jungles before they reached civilization. Photo shows Lasky's mother, Mrs. Sarah Lasky, meeting him at the station in Los Angeles on his return.

OHIO BEEKEEPERS SHOULD ORDER NOW

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—Beekeepers in Ohio who are planning to import recruits in package form from southern bee breeders would do well to make their plans and send their orders at once, according to Virgil N. Argo, extension specialist in beekeeping for the Ohio State University here.

"Package bees" as such recruits are called, consist of two or three pounds of live bees, with a queen among them, enclosed in a screen box with provisions for their trip. Package bees purchased in the south are used by northern beekeepers to replace colonies which have died during the winter, to increase the size of an apiary, or to start a new one. Packages should arrive in Ohio about April 15.

XENIANS ATTEND MEETING IN DAYTON

URBANA POLICE MAY ESTABLISH PENSION

Urbana police are considering establishment of a pension fund for police and firemen similar to a fund established in Piqua a year ago.

Piqua police and firemen contribute a percentage of their salary to the fund, which is also swelled in other ways. Members of the departments who resign are returned the money they have paid in, with interest.

No provision for pension for police or firemen exists in Xenia.

CARL FENT TO SELL BUS LINE IS REPORT

Authority to sell the Springfield-Xenia-Washington C. DAILY ROUGHAGE IS AN ESSENTIAL IN ANY DIET

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Effective Relief for Constipation.
Also Adds Iron to the Blood

Do you suffer from constipation? Are you one of those who have tried one "vest pocket cure" after another and still have no sense of permanent relief? If so, this is big news to you! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is natural, effective relief for both temporary and recurring constipation. It is the original—and today is included in the diets of millions of people who formerly suffered from constipation.

When roughage is missing from food, constipation is the consequence. The soft foods we eat today seldom include enough roughage. The simple necessity, then, is to see to it that sufficient roughage is included in our food.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the bulk that your system requires.

In addition, it is rich in iron. Scientific research proves that nearly all this iron is absorbed by the system, building red blood and bringing the glorious color of health to the complexion.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is positively guaranteed. Your money will be returned if you are not satisfied. Be sure to include it in reducing diets as a preventive for both constipation and anemia.

There are so many ways you can eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN and enjoy it. In any form, it is appetizing. It is delicious with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over cereals and soups and notice the added flavor. Many people soak it in fruit juices. Excellent in cooked foods. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. It is served in hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Ask for it! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ADMINISTRATOR SUED; WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE IN COURT

Attorney Morris D. Rice, Osborn, as administrator of the estate of Martha A. Zedeker, late of Osborn, is named defendant in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Sarah C. Zedeker and Sylvia A. Zedeker, Osborn, who seek to obtain $3,120 on a claim for joint services rendered the decedent, including board, room, laundry and care, from May 8, 1922 to May 8, 1928. The plaintiffs declare that Martha Zedeker died May 9, 1928 and that they had maintained a home and together had performed a number of services for her for six years prior to her death. When they presented a written statement of their claim to the administrator August 9, 1929, he refused an endorsement of the allowance, the petition asserts.

Attorney Rice, according to the petition, was named administrator of the estate January 18, 1929 and the administration of the estate has not been completed. The Zedekers charge that no part of their claim has been paid. Attorney Robert N. Brumbaugh, Dayton, represents the plaintiff.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Charging gross neglect of duty Edna Smith has brought suit in Common Pleas Court for divorce from Hubbard Smith, whom she married at Dayton July 23, 1923. The plaintiff asserts that because her husband contributed nothing toward her support she separated from him in October, 1929 and they have lived apart ever since. The mother seeks to be awarded custody of their nine-months-old child, Dorothy.

FORECLOSURE SOUGHT

Suit for $3,555.11, alleged due on an obligation, and foreclosure of mortgaged property, has been filed in Common Pleas Court by the Home Building and Savings Co. against Roy I. Spicer and Nellie Spicer. Harry D. Smith is attorney for the plaintiff.

GIVEN JUDGMENT

J. Q. Adams and C. E. Thuma, doing business as Adams and Thuma, a partnership, have recovered a cognovit note judgment for $129.75 against A. L. Ary and Ardilla Ary in Common Pleas Court.

ORDERED INTO COURT

In the case of Alice Donall against Frank Donall in Common Pleas Court, on motion of the plaintiff, the defendant has been ordered to appear in court at 9 a. m. February 8 to show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt of court for non-payment of alimony in alleged violation of a former court order.

COUPLE SUED

C. L. Rice and his wife, Mrs. Mildred, and Miss Mildred Rice, are named defendants in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Peoples Building and Savings Co., seeking equitable relief.

HEALTH RETURNS AFTER TRIAL OF NEW KONJOLA!

Stirring Tribute Made To New And Different Medicine By Grateful Lady

"Konjola relieved me of pain and misery and has given me health and strength," said Mrs. Elsie Locke, Brookville, Ohio, near Columbus. "I suffered from stomach trouble and was sick all the time."

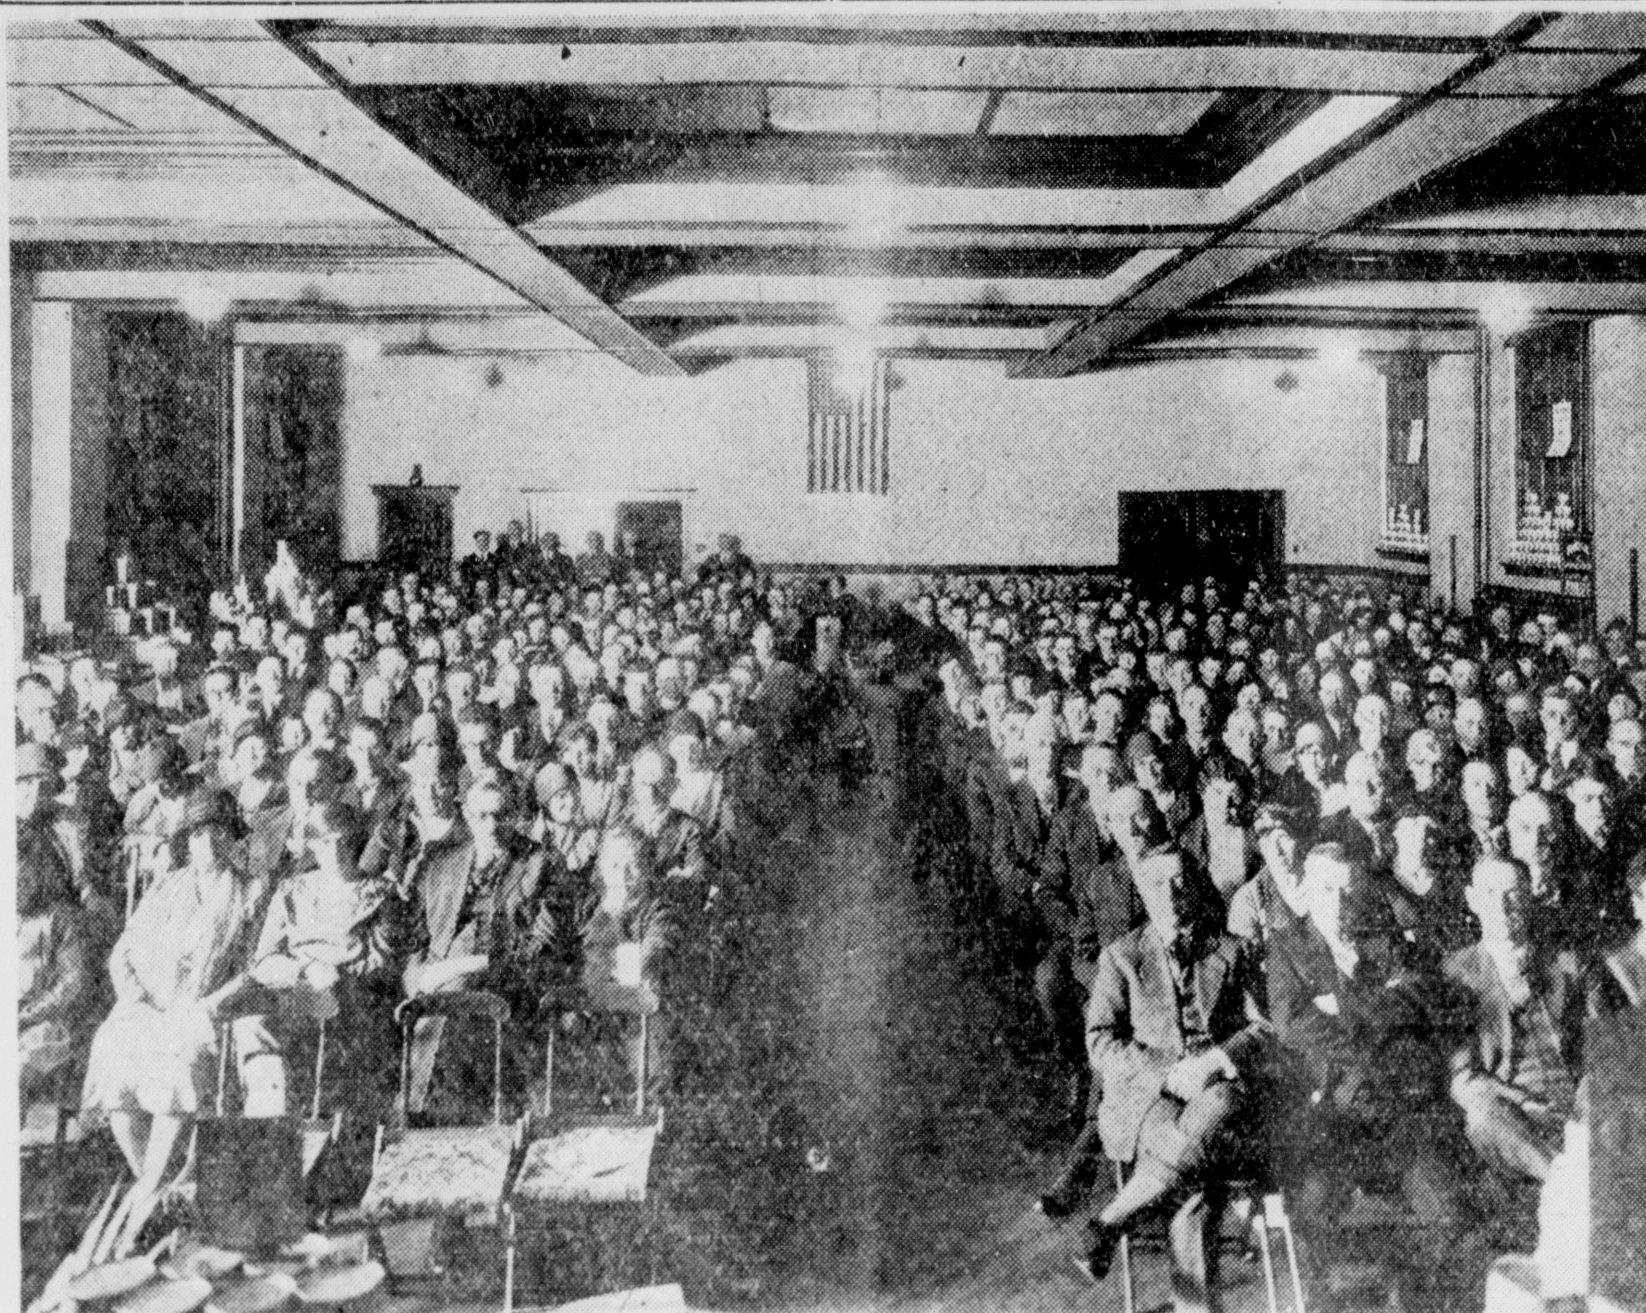

MRS. ELSIE LOCKE

There was hardly anything I could eat that would not cause pain and misery in my stomach. I was scarcely ever without a headache. My strength and energy were taken from me, and I feared I never would have good health again. My father had derived wonderful benefits from Konjola, so I decided to give it a trial. How glad I am that I made this decision! Almost immediately my appetite increased and the headaches vanished. Now I have been fully restored to health. If you are suffering as I did, get Konjola and enjoy the same health that I now enjoy."

Konjola is a new and different medicine of 32 ingredients, 22 of them the juices of roots and herbs long known for their medicinal value. Konjola works quickly and thoroughly at the very root, the fount of the ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Konjola is not designed to give mere temporary relief, but to bring new, glorious and lasting health.

Konjola is sold in Xenia at Gallaher drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

MORE THAN 500 ATTEND I. G. A. CONVENTION HERE MONDAY

The above picture shows a group of more than 500 I. G. A. dealers and salesmen who attended the second annual meeting of the local I. G. A. organization at Masonic Temple here Monday evening. An interesting program was presented and plans for a national radio broadcast to begin Tuesday, February 25, were announced. The meeting was held in conjunction with similar meetings of I. G. A. districts throughout the United States. Dealers from over a large territory were present at the meeting here. H. E. Eavey, president of The Eavey Co., is chairman of the buying committee of the national organization of the Independent Grocers Alliance.

CEDARVILLE BOARD PLANS CAMPAIGN AT MID-YEAR MEETING

The most important question scheduled for consideration at the annual mid-year meeting of the board of trustees of Cedarville College at Cedarville Friday afternoon and evening is the campaign to obtain $750,000 for buildings and endowment.

The present endowment is $230,000 and college buildings are valued at $250,000, a total of $480,000. It is hoped to reach the goal, by 1934, as that year will mark the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the school. Annual election of faculty members is expected to be held and semi-annual reports of President W. B. McChesney and the dean and the college treasurer will be heard at the meeting. Written recommendations relative to future policies of the college, prepared by a committee representing the college alumni organization, will also be submitted to the trustees. This committee, composed of Attorney J. A. Finney, Xenia; the Rev. Gavin Reilly, Bradford, O., and the Rev. B. W. Ustick, Springfield, was appointed at a recent dinner-meeting in Xenia.

Farm Notes

LICE ON CATTLE

Lice on cattle may be destroyed by almost any kind of oil or grease that does not irritate the skin of the animal or by spraying the cattle and the stalls.

The presence of lice is usually first indicated by the animals licking themselves. The long winter coat of hair makes an ideal condition for the development of lice, which may become very annoying to cattle that are closely housed in winter.

The long hair and licking, however, may be the result of a damp, poorly ventilated barn. A careful examination on the neck close to the head and about the ears, and of the escutcheon and about the tail will reveal the lice if any are present.

Any of the following oils and combinations recommended by C. C. Hayden, head of the dairy department of the Ohio Experiment Station, will prove satisfactory in the control of lice on cattle: one-half pint of kerosene oil thoroughly mixed with one pound of lard or cottonseed oil; crude oil alone; linseed oil alone; low-grade neutral mineral oil. These oils should be applied with a stiff brush or cloth and rubbed well into the hair.

Sprays applied to both cattle and stalls and repeated in ten days are even more satisfactory than oils. Spraying should be done on warm days. Oils blister in hot sunshine. Dips or emulsions of oil and soap in water may be used.

There are three species of lice commonly found on cattle, according to Mr. Hayden. They are the short nosed blue louse, the long nosed blue louse and the red louse. The blue species are sucking insects and may do considerable damage to the animals if permitted to become numerous. The red louse is not a sucking insect and probably lives mostly on waste material from the skin and hair. However, it may become very annoying.

In Alabama Fight

Prominent in what promises to be the hottest political campaign in years in Alabama is Hugh A. Locke, Birmingham attorney, who is an independent candidate for governor. He has been barred from the 1930 state Democratic primaries because he was chairman of the anti-Smith campaign committee of Alabama in 1928.

CLAUDE B. ATKIN, FORMER XENIAN, IS CALLED BY DEATH

Claude B. Atkin, 57, former Xenian, died at his home, 405 Franklin St., Hamilton, Wednesday morning at 12:05 o'clock of heart trouble following an illness of one week.

Mr. Atkin was born in Dayton, May 5, 1872. He attended the public schools at Dayton and was graduated from high school in that city. He was married in Xenia, December 5, 1899 and was for a number of years connected with the Western and Southern Insurance Co., this city. He and his family left Xenia in 1908 when he went to Hamilton and was named membership secretary of the London branch of the Y. M. C. A. In 1915 he became membership secretary of the main branch of the Y. M. C. A. and served as educational and social secretary of the organization.

Mr. Atkin was recently connected with the Electric Shop of The Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co., in Cincinnati. He was a member of the United Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Maude Atkin and five children: Mrs. Charles Glass, Jr., Midletown; Mrs. Ralph Henes, Hamilton; Misses Nellie and Helen Atkin at home and William R. Atkin of Redlands, Calif., and two sisters, Mrs. J. D. Niswender, Dayton and Mrs. C. E. Clayton of Florida.

Funeral services will be held at Hamilton Monday afternoon. Burial will be made in the Dayton Cemetery.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN AND PRAYER

The secret of Abraham Lincoln's influence and power, the moulding factor in his personal life and character was in his vital and unbroken fellowship with the Eternal from whom he drew strength, wisdom and power to meet every emergency and need.

Upon one occasion Lincoln said, "I am conscious every moment that all I am and all I have is subject to a Higher Power, and that Power can use me or excuse me, in any manner or at any time, as in His wisdom and might may be pleasing to Him.—I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to turn."

Lincoln was a peculiarly lonely man and found it necessary to form a contact with the Almighty to meet the daily problems as well as the emergencies constantly arising.

The church is the house of prayer. Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?—D. Carl Yoder.

DUNKELS'

Creamed Comments On S.S. Lesson

This lesson vitally and vividly illustrates the nature of sin, the need of human help, and the power of divine salvation.

V. 1. "And he entered into a boat and crossed over, and came into his own city." Capernaum was Jesus' home, having been driven out of Nazareth and now urged to go home by the Gadarenes.

V. 2. "And behold, they brought to him a sick man, sick of the palsy, lying on a bed and Jesus, seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy, son, be of good cheer, thy sins are forgiven thee." Faith is the condition of the miracle.

Christ recognized man's universal sinfulness and the fact that it is virtually at the bottom of all misery, the one disease that needs most to be cured.

V. 4. "And Jesus, knowing their thoughts said, wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?" This is a clear proof of the omniscience of Jesus. He knows the very thoughts of men.

V. 5. "For which is easier, to say, thy sins are forgiven; or to say, arise and walk." The one denotes divine power, the other divine authority and neither can be done but by God. One is as easy as the other; and to be able to do the one involves the right and the power to do the other.

V. 6. "But that ye may know, that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins (then saith he to the sick of the palsy) arise and take up thy bed and walk." The reason why Christ performed miracles was to give human evidence that he was the Son of God.

Vs. 7, 8. "And he arose and departed to his house. But when the multitude saw it, they were afraid and glorified God who had given such authority unto men." The evident presence of divine power filled the multitude with awe. They gave God praise for such authority and power, when they seemed to think was for men.

V. 9. "And as Jesus passed by from thence, he saw a man called Matthew sitting at the place of toll; and he said unto him, follow me. And he arose and followed him." Matthew was a busy man, but it is the busy man that Christ wants. Matthew was despised because of the kind of work he had to perform, but he was responsive to the call of God, the great fact in his life; he arose and followed the Master, which was his program for life.

V. 10. "And it came to pass as he sat at meat in the house, behold many publicans and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples. Matthew signified his conversion by having a feast of gratitude in his home to which he invited his friends whom he wanted to meet his Lord.

V. 11. "And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples why eateth your teacher with the publicans and sinners?" The inference here is that Jesus himself could not be righteous since he delighted to associate with sinners. There is a sting in such inferences and implications made of those doing right.

Vs. 12, 13. "But when he heard it, he said, they that are whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick. But go ye and learn that this meaneth, I desire mercy and not sacrifice; for I came not to call the righteous but sinners." They regarded outward legal righteousness as satisfactory to God; it is the heart of mercy that pleases God.

What should be the standards of a local church school to meet effectively the ever changing needs of the times?

1. Seek to break down prejudices and intolerance between adults and between adults and youth, developing a new appreciation for each other's belief and means of expression.

2. Meet the demand for graduation in the adult division, providing special classes for young married couples.

3. Encourage better methods of teaching, offering courses up to date and of interest to every group.

4. Prepare for the needs of the future by an adequate teacher-training program, increased facilities and equipment.

5. Plan a program of social service large enough to enlist every member.

6. Keep uppermost the idea of the instilling of Christian ideals into every individual and a more thorough appreciation of the real meaning of Christianity.

7. What evidences are there that business men are entering Christian service in increasing numbers?

8. How may the church do more evangelistic work?

Clericus says, "Sins and suffering are regarded as closely connected; the coming of the Kingdom, which the Lord proclaims, is to banish both. The Lord's healing miracles are the signs of the kingdom. If he brings the blessings of the kingdom for the body, he can bring them for the soul also." Lesson prayer, "Give us a deeper sense of the need of forgiveness both for ourselves and for others; having found pardon for our sins, give us the intense interest in others' religious welfare to the point of bringing them to Thee."

BOOK REVIEW

"The Church At Work With Young People" by Stock. The Pilgrim Press, presents plans and principles which can be applied with success in the local church.

"A Seven Day Church At Work," W. S. Mitchell, Funk and Wagnalls Co., gives facts about a local church that functions effectively, dealing with the building, the program of service, religion, worship and religious work, equipment and administration.

TWO SLIGHTLY HURT AS AUTOS COLLIDE

Two negroes, occupants of a sedan driven by Hobson Miller, colored, Dayton, were scratched and bruised when their auto collided with a roadster driven by Kenneth Fulkerson, Lower Bellbrook Pike, near the top of Lucas hill on the Dayton Pike, two miles west of Xenia, about 6:30 a. m. Friday. Fulkerson was driving to Dayton, where he is employed at the National Cash Register Co. plant, and Miller was bringing a youth to work at the Xenia Stemmy branch of the American Cigar Co. Neither car upset but both machines were damaged.

SMALL FIRE LOSS

Damage placed at $5 was caused when someone upset a gas stove in an apartment above the F. C. Alexander grocery on S. Whiteman St. at 7:20 a. m. Friday. Firemen were summoned but before their arrival Alexander had thrown a bucket of water on the flames, extinguishing the blaze. The fire burned a small hole in the floor and scorched the walls.

Poems that Live

WILLIE WINKIE

WEE Willie Winkie rins through the town,
Upstairs and down stairs, in his night-gown,
Tirlin' at the window, cryin' at the lock,
"Are the weans in their bed?—for it's noo ten o'clock."
Hey, Willie Winkie! are ye comin' ben?
The cat's singin' gay thrums to the sleepin' hen,
The dog's splender on the floor,
and disna gie a cheep;
But here's a waukrife laddie, that winna fa' asleep.

Anything but sleep, ye rogue!—glowrin' like the moon,
Rattlin' in an airm jug wi' an airm spoon,
Rumblin', tumblin' roun' about, crawin' like a cock,
Skirlin' like a kenna-what—wauknin' sleepin' folk!

Hey, Willie Winkie! the wean's in a creel!
Waumlin' aff a bodie's knee like a vera eel,
Ruggin' at the cat's lug, and ravelin' a' her thrums:
Hey, Willie Winkie!—See, there he comes!

—William Miller (1810-1872)

KANSAS GIRL MAKES OPERA DEBUT

Not to be outdone by Missouri, which has its Marian Talley, Kansas is loud in its praises of Miss Kathleen Kersting, youthful Wichita song bird, who made her debut with the Chicago Civic Opera company, recently. She is above with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kersting, after her debut as Marcellina in "Fidelio."

WILL RETURN GILBERT COOPER TO JAIL; TRIAL DATE NOT SET

Gilbert Cooper, 50, Cedarville laborer, will be returned to the Greene County Jail from Ohio State Penitentiary within a few days to await a second trial on a first degree murder charge in connection with the slaying of Caleb Hitchcock, Cedarville youth, November 24, 1928.

The case will probably not be assigned for re-trial, however, until sometime next month because Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy will leave February 10 to preside on the Cuyahoga County bench at Cleveland for four weeks under an assignment of Carriagton T. Marshall, chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Cooper's conviction for murder in the first degree with mercy recommended, was reversed Wednesday by the supreme court and the case was remanded for a second trial by a virtually unanimous decision of the judges.

Both Cooper and Hitchcock were trappers and the homicide case arose over a quarrel about their traps.

In the decision affirming the conviction in the Greene County Common Pleas Court, the Greene County Court of Appeals said the court was in doubt as to whether the state proved the element of premeditation and deliberation. In remanding the case the supreme court admonished the appellate court that it was its duty in reviewing a case upon the weight of the evidence to determine whether the judgment is supported by the degree of proof, which the character of the case requires and to give judgment in accordance with such determination.

MINISTER TO SPEAK AT SCOUT SERVICE

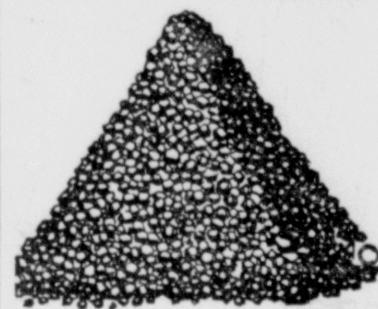

The Rev. J. R. Lunsford, pastor of the Baptist Church, will deliver an address at a special Boy Scout service at the Second United Presbyterian Church Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock to which all Scouts and Scout officials in Greene County are invited. The service is being arranged in connection with the nation-wide observance "Boy Scout Anniversary Week," marking the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Scout movement.

Scouts are asked to wear their uniforms to this service, and to meet at the Court House, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock and go in a body from there to the church.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The senior girls elected their home room officials January 31. These officers will hold office during the month of February. The officers chosen were: president, Mary Maxwell; vice president, Helen LeSourd; secretary, Hester Creamer; treasurer, Donna Harness. Committees were appointed after the election of officers.

The Agriculture Club held its regular meeting last Wednesday evening in the high school building.

MORE COAL PER DOLLAR

You'll feel that you get the last penny's worth of value out of every dollar spent when you burn our coal. Try a ton and see how little of your dollar will go into ashes and clinkers and how much of it will go into clean, intense heat. Explain your heating plant to us and we will send you the best kind of coal for it. For the average furnace or stove nothing beats our

ing. An important business meeting was held before the speaker for the evening was introduced. After the business meeting J. R. Kimber of the Steele farms gave a very interesting talk. His talk consisted of his experiences as farm manager and also of the education needed for this work. The meeting was adjourned at an early hour.

Harold Bull, president of the senior class, appointed a committee recently to choose senior graduation announcements and this committee has met with several salesmen lately. Some very original and modernistic designs have been selected to be put before the class. From each salesman the committee selects four announcements. Out of each four they then select two or three of the best which they will put before the class after they have obtained a number of the best designs. It has been decided that these announcements shall be put before the class the first of March. The committee is expecting more salesmen to appear soon and hopes to find something entirely different from other previous announcements.

Work on the Cen-Sen is progressing in fine style and they expect to have the year book out within a few weeks. Nearly all pictures have been taken and as there will be no advertisements in the book this year work on the annual should draw near to completion before very long.

The Hi-Y Club gave two very interesting two reel comedies in the auditorium last Friday afternoon for the students of the school building. An admission ten cents was charged for the shows. The proceeds of the shows will be used to strengthen the treasury of the club. The club about sixteen members at present and plans are being made to take in new members within the next few days. Five new members will be selected at this time, two juniors and three sophomores, other members will be chosen before the close of school in spring.

A SUMPTUOUS FEAST OF MUSIC ON THE AIR!

February 13th—10 P. M. Eastern Standard Time

ONLY IF YOU HAVE VICTOR RADIO IN YOUR HOME can you hear this Victor hour of glorious entertainment, fully, completely, perfectly—exactly as it is performed in the New York studio of the National Broadcasting Company.

VICTOR RADIO R-32
The world's finest radio receiver in a simple, modern, compact cabinet.

VICTOR RADIO ELECTRO-R-45
The complete, modern musical instrument. Victor Radio and record reproduction through same matchless amplifying system. Musically, there is no greater Victor instrument.

DON'T FORGET THE TIME AND DATE

Thursday evening, February 13th, 10 o'clock, E. S. T. Perhaps the most extraordinary radio broadcast ever put on the air... a glittering procession of Victor musical entertainers, every one of head-line rank, every one sure to delight you. AND MORE:

There will be details, there will be features of this program which can be reproduced, really, completely, exactly as performed in the studio, ONLY BY VICTOR RADIO!

YOU CAN HEAR THIS CONCERT ON

VICTOR RADIO—FREE! We want every present and prospective owner of radio in this community to know what Victor Radio can give... what radio entertainment really is, when it is reproduced in all the richness, brilliance and vitality of perfectly reproduced musical tone. Only Victor Radio can give you such a performance.

To prove Victor Radio and our statements about it, we will place in your home, for Victor's February 13th broadcast, any of the four Victor Radio models you select. (Unless our stock of a particular model is exhausted before you call to ask for your choice.) There will be no charge and no obligation.

VICTOR RADIO CHALLENGES THIS TEST

—and we can offer it to you because we know that most of the people who are eagerly accepting our offer will never again be satisfied with inferior radio. They will not be satisfied with radio that depreciates over night, or is superseded with a so-called "new model" every few weeks.

VICTOR DOES NOT EXPERIMENT ON

THE PUBLIC and Victor Radio is still far in advance. You have it in your own hands to prove this statement without obligation, without interruption, without annoyance or "high-pressure salesmanship." Listen to Victor's broadcast, February 13th, in your own home—and discover what radio entertainment really can be.
